NCJI
NATIONAL CIVIL JUSTICE INSTITUTE

About the National Civil Justice Institute
NCJI is dedicated to the cause of promoting access to civil justice through its programs and publications, which give a balanced view of issues affecting the U.S. civil justice system. Since 1956, the Institute has offered programs which promote open, ongoing dialogue among the academic, judicial, and legal communities on issues critical to protecting the right to trial by jury.

Annual Forum for State Appellate Court Judges—Since 1992, NCJI's annual Judges Forum has brought together state appellate judges, legal scholars, attorneys, and policymakers to discuss major issues affecting the U.S. civil justice system. Lauded by attending judges as "one of the best seminars available to jurists in the country," the Forum is unique in its mission to educate state judiciaries on the vital role of the U.S. civil justice system, and state courts in particular, in protecting citizens' rights.

Academic Symposia—The Institute holds periodic Academic Symposia in conjunction with law schools to introduce new empirical research supportive of the civil justice system. Recent symposia include Secrecy and Transparency in Civil Litigation (Stanford 2026); Tensions in Daubert (American 2024); The Future of Substantive Due Process: What Are the Stakes? (SMU 2023); The Internet and the Law: Legal Challenges in the New Digital Age (Hastings 2021); Class Actions, Mass Torts and MDLs: The Next 50 Years (Lewis & Clark 2019); The Jury Trial and Remedy Guarantees (Oregon Law Review 2017); The Demise of the Grand Bargain (Rutgers, Northeastern 2016); and The "War" on the Civil Justice System (Emory 2015).

Appellate Advocacy Award—This award recognizes excellence in appellate advocacy in America and is given to legal practitioners who have been instrumental in securing a final appellate court decision with significant impact on the right to trial by jury, public health and safety, consumer rights, civil rights, environmental justice, and access to civil justice.

Civil Justice Scholarship Award—This award for legal academics recognizes current scholarly research and writing focused on the U.S. civil justice system, including access to and the benefits of the civil justice system, and the right to trial by jury in civil cases.

Judicial Webinar Series—Often cosponsored with NYU's Brennan Center for Justice, this programming for state court judges addresses timely and impactful topics facing the judges who handle the vast majority of litigation in America.

NCJI Papers—NCJI has an expansive digital library of research resulting from its programs. NCJI Fellows, courts, and academics receive complimentary copies of NCJI's publications.

Alliance with Academics—The Institute has strong relationships within the legal academic community. Currently, nearly 100 Academic Fellows keep NCJI abreast of emerging legal trends.

NCJI Fellows—Attorneys who care about preserving the civil justice system are invited to join NCJI's important dialogue with judges and legal academics by becoming an NCJI Fellow. We offer affordable, tax-deductible membership levels, with monthly options available.
